Musser Chemistry Building

On August 25, 1982, the formal groundbreaking ceremony for the new chemistry building was held as students, professors, and college administrators observed. The building, which will be located in the area between Esbenshade Hall and Baugher Avenue, is the first building to be constructed in ten years on the college campus. December 1983 is the anticipated opening date for the facility.

The Harrisburg architectural firm of Murray, Savann designed the facility, and Warfel Construction Company of Lancaster was given the contract to build. The new building which will cost 2.5 million dollars, is being built to facilitate the expanding curriculum Elizabethtown offers in the sciences. The old Gibble Science Hall is no longer suitable for expanding chemistry department needs. The oldest wing of Gibble Hall is approximately fifty years old, and the facilities are both inadequate and outdated.

The new chemistry building was named Musser Hall, in honor of two distinguished alumni of the college, Dr. Benjamin G. Musser '33 and his wife, Vera Shoop '33. Dr. Musser's long and illustrious career in medicine directly relates to the uses to which Musser Hall will be put. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1965 and Mrs. Musser has long been active in the many good works of the Auxiliary to Elizabethtown College. They both stand well to the fore among the College's devoted alumni.

Choose thy friends like thy books, few but choice.

— James Howell

An egg of one hour old, bread of one day, a goat of one month, wine of six months, flesh of a year, fish of ten years, a wife of twenty years, a friend among a hundred, are the best of all number.

— Wodroephe

There are three faithful friends — an old wife, an old dog, and ready money.

— Benjamin Franklin

It is not enough to have a good mind; the main thing is to use it well.

— Descartes

All persons are puzzles until at last we find in some word or act the key to the man, to the woman; straightway all their past words and actions lie in light before us.

— Emerson

The day comes soon in the real world When we wake to see our day unfurl. A career is launched and all seems well. Without the clanging of the *%#? Myer Bells.

— Charlie Artz

It is only fine feathers that make fine birds.

— Aesop

Life is a boundless privilege, and when you pay your ticket, and get into the car, you have no guess what company you will find there.

— Emerson

Friends are like melons. Shall I tell you why? To find one, you must a hundred try.

— Claude Mermet

Education is not a product: mark, diploma, job, money — in that order; it is a process, a never-ending one.

— Bel Kaufman

Come up and see me sometime.

— Mae West

Cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.

— Mark Twain

Bernard Shaw once sent Churchill two tickets for the opening of his new play, with the invitation:

Bring a friend — if you have one, Churchill regretted that he was engaged and asked for the tickets for the second performance:

If there is one.

The old believe everything, the middle-aged suspect everything, the young know everything.

— Oscar Wilde

So much of adolescence is an ill-defining dying. An intolerable waiting. A longing for another place and time. Another condition.

— Theodore Roethke

We cannot always build the future for our youth, but we can build our youth for the future.

— Franklin Delano Roosevelt

He that has much in common with his fellow men will have much in common with a friend.

— Seneca

Life is a stage, so learn to play your part, laying gravity aside, or learn to bear its griefs.

— Palladas

The judge should not be young; he should have learned to know evil, not from his own soul, but from late long observation of the nature of evil in others: knowledge should be his guide, not personal experience.

— Plato

Thinking to get at once all the gold the goose could give, he killed it and opened it only to find — nothing.

— Aesop

The avoidance of taxes is the only intellectual pursuit that still carries any reward.

— John Maynard Keynes

The thing that impresses me most about America is the way parents obey their children.

— The Duke of Windsor

The college administration, renowned for adroitness in problem solving, has been honored recently by the National Policy Interpretation Council for openness, stringency, frankness, clarity, and a firmness regarding the Alcohol Policy.

— Charlie Artz

The young are permanently in a state resembling intoxication; for youth is sweet and they are growing.

Once again the Jays put forth another exciting season as they finished with a record of 15-5-1. The highlight of the season was that the team equaled the record for most wins in a season.

The Jays came on strong early in the season. At the start they were the winners over five other teams as they captured our own Blue Jay Classic. As a result, the team was ranked high in the national standings for Division III and stayed there for most of the season.

Chris Craig led the scoring with nine while Craig Pursel and Duane Snavelly scored eight and six goals respectively. At goal, Nick Broujos recorded 113 saves and six shutouts.

This year's junior varsity soccer squad sported one of its best records ever of 10-1-1. Coach Joe Whitmore saw a team which showed respect for teammates and opponents, a fighting spirit, and won with class while struggling hard in defeat.

The team scored 45 goals while giving up only 12. Eleven different Jays had assists to 17 different Jays in scoring these 45 goals, while the keepers recorded five shut-outs.

Dan Morris was first in assists and the second leading scorer. Davey Jones was second in assists and first in scoring.

In fourteen years of coaching the junior varsity, Coach Whitmore would have to put this team in the top five that he has coached.

Volleyball

"This has been by far our best season ever," said Coach Garrett. Certainly, this is true. After a record of 2-12 last year, the "volley girls" came on strong finishing with a 16-7 record this year.

Coach Garrett attributes the team's success to the girl's positive attitude and pride as a team. "Even the girls who were on second team were dedicated." This was the first year that players joined college volleyball with volleyball experience outside of intramurals or gym class. As far the "most valuable" or "most improved" players, Coach Garrett remarked, "I really hate to single out one player. It's such a team game." The final score for the season certainly evidences a team effort.

After 14 of the players returned from a memorable tour in England where they gained valuable experience, the field hockey team came back and finished with a 14-3-1 record. This team had the second best record of any team that Yvonne Kauffman has coached.

The team was ranked in the top four in the national standings all season. Coach Kauffman felt that this was her best year as coach because the team had little or no internal problems so she could concentrate on developing playing skills.

Edith Thompson was a first team All-American player. In addition, she and Michelle Frizol were on the MAC All-Star team. Honorable mentions included Cindy Minor, Kamille Kassees, and Carol Murray.

As Kauffman said, "When we won, we won as a team and even when we scored, it was through a total team effort and all the girls realized that each player made a contribution."

The junior varsity Lady Jays had a winning season this year in field hockey. Led by Coach Linda Raber, the team worked hard. The dedication paid off as the team produced seven wins. Ten returning players gave the team some depth with experience. Being Raber's fourth year as coach, she feels that the team improves each year and she is definitely looking forward to the season to come.

Cross Country

The cross country team concluded what has to be described as an encouraging season. Although they finished with an unspectacular record of 1-16, they won their first meet in four years and made great progress in rebuilding a competitive team.

In the MAC meet at Indiantown Gap, several fine performances were seen. In the women's competition, Debbie Fehr came in 46th with a respectable time of 21:46 over three miles. In the men's race, Frank Carleton finished 23rd in a record for him over five miles of 26:42.

Wrestling is a sport of total dedication and strict discipline. The men who participated in this sport for the blue and the grey strove to live up to wrestling's expectations. The Blue Jay wrestlers were very young and small in numbers, but they did well. David Chute led the team with his experience as a MAC champion and a national finalist. John Kissler also contributed to the team through his many wins. Although inexperience and lack of teammates hindered this team, the 1982 season was an excellent learning experience and provided the team with good hopes for next year.

The 1982-83 fighting Blue Jays Men's Basketball team set high goals for themselves and their accomplishments were commendable. Ending with a three way tie for first place in their MAC division, the men brought back the meaning of a winning season to their team. Coach Smith, coach for thirteen years, was definitely satisfied with the performances of his team. He felt that they played well and applied sound team concepts. The team had many close wins including a 5 point thriller over Widener University, and a 1 point upset over Division II Millersville.

Led by co-captains, Brian Crouse and Dave Thraikill, and senior Neil Mansur, this Blue Jay basketball team pulled together after a shaky stand, and played quality ball. Pride, a positive attitude, and team work all contributed to their success. With a majority of the team returning next year another winning season is within their reach.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Jays, a team of superior talent, poise and determination, had the desire to reach their ultimate goal one more time. With eight returning players, the women's basketball team had a tough season ahead of them. As the returning champions, they were expected to be good, but with the slow start a tough battle lay ahead.

Led by co-captains Peggy Longo and Nora Barlow, the team had a season of comebacks and few losses on route to a 23-5 record.

1000 Point Club

This year E-town College added a fourth and fifth member to the women's basketball 1000 point club. On February 1 against Dickinson, Page Lutz scored 18 points in the first half to reach her 1000th point. Being a junior, Page has another year to play for the Lady Jays. She also displayed her talent as she received the MVP award for the National Championship Tournament.

The fifth member to enter the club was senior Peggy Longo. As one of the co-captains, she was a strong leader of the team. On February 22 in the third quarter, Longo scored her 1000th point against Western Maryland.

E-town College has only one option to be proud of their women's basketball team as they qualified for the National Championships for the second consecutive year since it began. On March 16th the Lady Jays traveled to Worcester, Massachusetts to compete in the final four.

The sweet taste of success still lingered about them and they wanted to prove that they were qualified to play with the best in the nation. The semifinals found the team displaying a repeat performance by beating Clark as they did last year.

North Central was their next competitor. Although the Lady Jays lost the game 83-71, their achievements were more than commendable. In 1983 they were second in the nation, but when all is said and done they will always be number one to us.

Swimming as a co-ed team, the Blue Jay swimmers had a season of building and initiating many new members to the world of small college competition. Dedication and undying team support produced a team which set various school records and even some personal bests. Suzette Desjardin, who graduated from E-town last year, returned this year to assist Dean Shaw in coaching the team. From diving to the swimming relays, the effort put forth from this team illustrated their talent, although their record did not show their accomplishments. Dean Shaw feels that this team possesses much potential and next year's season has the hopes of being their brightest season.

After a horrendous season last year, a solid group of strong, new players helped to improve the team this year to a 5-9 mark. A large number of freshmen were especially responsible for this year's surge.

Co-captain Beth Hilbert batted .381 to lead the team while Dianne Snyder was at .333. Freshmen Shelly Woodbury (2b), Carol Willoughby (c), Beth Bartnicki (3b), and sophomore Genie Willard (ss) proved a solid defense in the infield through the season.

Willoughby led the team with 14 stolen bases and 19 runs scored. Karen Hubler and Jackie Jackson shared the pitching chores throughout the season.

Women's Tennis

After losing defending NCAA singles champion Beckie Donecker to graduation, the women's tennis team was forced to rely on a few returning veterans and some good freshmen as the Jays finished 4-7.

Since the Blue and Grey had no seniors this year, the team will have much experience and will be a much more competitive team next year.

After a memorable spring baseball tour in Florida, where the Jays on the tournament trophy, the men's baseball team returned home for one of their best seasons ever. The team went on to win 22 games breaking the old mark of 18.

Most importantly the blue and grey earned a berth in the NCAA National. Although the Jays lost the first and only two games, it was an accomplishment just to make the tournament.

Senior speedster Charlie Artz broke several single season records. Artz whitewashed the stolen base record of 26 by swiping 37. He also scored 31 runs to establish a new record.

Senior pitcher Roy Bickel was the strong arm of the hurling staff. Bickel appeared in 15 games going 6-3 with a 2.06 ERA. Herb Miller had the second lowest ERA of 2.29 while going 3-1.

This year the batters did help the pitchers, for a change. The team posted a .319 batting average. Jere Solenberger had the highest batting average of .420 while Miller had a .412 average. Other hitters included Artz (.368), Ray Caucci (.337), Scott Vaz (.324), Steve Roberto (.316) and Mike Childers (.309).

Infinitely often it is clear that we appreciate, even respect — not a multitude — but ten people gathered in a room, each of whom, taken by himself, we consider of no account.

— Giacomo Leopardi

A really busy person never knows how much he weighs.

— Edgar Watson Howe

If you want work done well, select a busy man; the other kind has no time.

— Bert Hubbard

No one is so busy as the man who has nothing to do.

— Unknown

An "egghead" is one who stands firmly on both feet in mid-air on both sides of an issue.

— Homer Ferguson

With three or more people there is something bold in the air: direct things get said which would frighten two people alone and conscious of each inch of their nearness to one another. To be there is to be in public, you feel safe.

— Elizabeth Bowen

It is better to waste one's youth than to do nothing with it at all.

— George Courteline

A moment's insight is sometimes worth a life's experience.

— Oliver Wendell Holmes, Sr.

The quality of life is determined by its activities.

— Aristotle

Sign-ups were held today for volunteer campus organizations. As usual, the selection committee had a difficult time choosing from the thousands of enthusiastic applicants.

— Charlie Artz

The only things in life in which we can be said to have any property, are our actions.

Activities

Freshman Orientation

Parents Weekend

Parents Weekend is a yearly event, and was introduced as a means of familiarizing parents with the college activities and entertainment. The weekend also gives parents the chance to live in a college setting, and become familiar with college life.

On tap this weekend was an assembly to welcome parents and guests by President Ebersole and Dean Shaw. Following this on Saturday was a brunch in Myer and a reception with faculty and administration. A soccer game followed as the Blue Jays took on FDU-Madison. Following the game a reception was held at the home of President and Mrs. Ebersole.

On Sunday parents attended the Interdenominational worship service in Rider Chapel, and had breakfast in Myer.

Concerts

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and Doc Severinsen, two big names in the music world not normally associated, came together on Tuesday, October 12 in Thompson Gym. An enthusiastic crowd of approximately 2000 listened appreciatively as Doc and the Orchestra dazzled them with a show that will be remembered for quite some time.

Thompson Gym was filled with the sounds of a different type of rock concert — the first one of its kind in almost ten years. On September 16, the Benny Hester Band, a popular Christian rock group from California, played to an audience of a thousand enthusiastic music fans and curious music critics.

The campus event was planned as a result of the interest of a minority group on campus. The APB, the Chaplain's Office, and the local Brethren Christian Fellowship all worked together to promote the event.

The warm-up band, Christian Stevens, came on after a long delay. The two musicians, Michael Christian Shaw and Robert Steven Miller played folk guitars and a piano repertoire.

Homecoming 1982

This year's traditional student Midway behind Brinker include games, the Freshman Kissing Booth, painter's hats, and of course food. The BSC terrace came alive with the sounds of international music and the aroma of delicious foods from all over the world at the International Cafe sponsored by the Foreign Language Club.

The highlight of Saturday afternoon came when Milton Berle took to the stage in the Thompson Gym. He kept the audience laughing with jokes from his routine, and he brought along film clips from the Golden Age of Comedy. During halftime of the soccer game against Salisbury State, the Homecoming Court was presented and Louise Heist was crowned 1982 Homecoming Queen. Later in the afternoon, the Alumni Auditorium was swinging to the tunes of our own Jazz Band.

On Saturday night, Thompson Gym was the setting for the Alumni Student Dinner. Once again, the palates of E-town were tantalized by the culinary talents of Nick Stamos and his staff. In Founder's lounge, students danced the night away to the spinning discs of Slow Steve.

Emphasis Week

The Politics of Energy" was the theme for this year's Emphasis Week. The series of week long lectures and activities featured former Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall and Senator Mark Hatfield of Oregon. Udall opened the week on October 4 with his speech on the topic, "Energy: The Nettle No One Wants to Grasp."

Hatfield took to the podium on October 6 to speak on the topic of "Power and Your Elected Representatives." Prior to his speech, a group of students held a rally for Hatfield. The students expressed their appreciation of Hatfield's record against student funds cutbacks.

In tune with the theme, students traveled to Knoxville, TN to visit the 1982 World's Fair.

Student Talent Show

Student stars sparkled in the 1978-79 Sock & Buskin talent show presented on Friday night, October 22 in the AA Sports Center. The campus drama society, Sock & Buskin, the talent show is a benefit performance, and proceeds from tickets went to the Heart Association.

Master of Ceremonies, John P. Gavin, brought together 22 musical and variety acts into the benefit production.

In addition to the many vocalists presented, two bands and specialty acts including a tap duo by Deb Trainer and Laura Bauer, a heckling act by Melinda Grabbs, and a magic act routine by Marty Brunme were also featured.

Royer Roaring 20's

The Roaring 20's came back to life when Royer held its first theme weekend on November 12, 13, and 14. Royer Dorm Council, which consists of four officers and twelve members, planned the weekend which held many different events.

After "The Sting" was shown in the EA on Friday, everyone was invited to dress up as their favorite gangster or flapper and dance the night away in Founders on Saturday. At midnight the best dressed gangster or flapper won a $35 gift certificate to English Brothers. The winner was flapper Lisa Walmski. An antique car show was scheduled for Sunday but was cancelled because of the weather. On Sunday evening, "Bonnie and Clyde" was shown in Royer basement.

Volleyball Marathon

CROP

The Community Hunger Appeal

At nine o'clock on November fifth over two hundred college students and faculty entered the "twilight zone" and battled with insomnia through the night until the next afternoon. Actually, the intent was to play twenty-four hours of volleyball for the Seventh Annual Crop Volleyball Marathon. At the successful completion of the marathon, they had earned more than three thousand dollars in pledges to help world hunger.

All proceeds from the marathon went to CROP, the community fund raising and educational arm of the Church World Service. The money went to help feed some of the 900 million people in abject poverty.

The marathon champion team was captained by Beth Shenemberger and included Shelby Raudensky, Sharon Eby, Lori Hartman, Tammy Irvin, Herb Miller, Jim Boris, Don Fitzkee, and Dennis Ginder. For their victory they received free marathon t-shirts.

APB Halloween Weekend

Halloween marked APB's theme weekend this year. Activities for the weekend included an "Assassin" game where 250 people tried to eliminate each other with plastic toy guns, a "Haunted House Hall" on Founders C-2, dance with Magnum, Big Brother/Big Sister Day, pumpkin carving contest, pie eating contest, and 3 DEVO concert

Early in November campus theater put up the curtain for the first play production of the year with "The Water Engine." It is the story of Charles Lang, a factory worker who invents an engine which runs on water. Due to big business pressure, he is harrassed to sell the rights to his magnificent engine. When he doesn't do so, his life is put in jeopardy.

Portraying Charles Lang was Chris Cavanaugh. Other "radio actors" and the characters they portrayed are: Peter La Rocca as Mr. Gross; John F. Hunt, a non-student, as Lawrence Oberman; Brent Hoar as Dave Murray; Robert George, a 1971 graduate, as Mr. Wallace; Michael Worman, a non-student, as Bernie; Dianne Kee as Mrs. Varec; and Ingrid Gaither as Rita. Performing as the radio sound effects man was Tim Kershner, and serving as the stage manager was Sue Whitting.

The production was the first for Ty Greiner as the new campus theater director.

You said you wanted to travel? On December 2, you could have had the chance to take a trip to West District World and the new Epcot Center in Florida.

This second annual tripping contest was sponsored by APB. Almost 300 tickets were sold for $2 each. Each person was required to bring a packed suitcase to the beach party in the AA.

First prize of a trip to the new Florida Epcot Center was awarded to Jim Heffley. "Out of the goodness of his heart," Heffley gave the trip to two friends, Betty Wilkes and Carol Smith. Second prize of a dinner for two at Three Center Square went to Kenda Hill. Trish Marrero won the third prize of a $10 gift certificate at For Every Lar.

Hello Florida!

Christmas

Religious Clubs Weekend

The religious fellowship groups provided the campus with a new and interesting Theme Weekend. Thursday was "Soup Day" when students ate soup for lunch with the benefits going to a Cambodian refugee family living in Elizabethtown. A book table was set up in the BSC. Friday's Events included a "Singspiration" held in Rider as well as a Coffee House featuring the Harvest Band, Greg Miller and student entertainment. Saturday began with a morning gathering in South Hall to pray and meditate for world-wide and campus concerns. In the afternoon there were several speakers. The highlight of Saturday's festivities was Square Dancing in the Alumni Auditorium. Following was a dance featuring contemporary Christian and popular music. The Weekend wound down on Sunday with the Rider chapel service. Sherry Albert, a sign language interpreter and instructor, performed in the afternoon.

Blizzard of '83

Brinser "JELLO" Weekend

Spring semester kicked off with a winner of a weekend courtesy of Brinser Dorm Council. The Casino weekend got off to a wild start with "JELLO Wrestling" in Thompson Gym. Some of the campuses more daring personalities took to the cold, sticky ring. Later the annual Casino was held in Founders which featured campus talent, games and horse races at regular intervals.

Miss Male E-town

How about those legs, girls! Fourteen of the finest males on campus assembled in the AA on February 18 to decide who would be crowned "Miss Male E-town 1983." After two hours of quality entertainment, Miss Nick Broujos was crowned the winner.

Masters of Ceremonies, Fran DeSalvo and Dan Nixon, guided the contestants through the various competitions such as formal gowns, bathing suit, and talent.

Founders Funtastic Weekend

The weekend of March 18-20 was truly a "Funtastic Weekend" courtesy of Founders Dorm Council. The weekend got off to an amazing start with handwriting analysis in the BSC and ESP/hypnosis demonstrations in Thompson Gym by "Mr. Amazing." The highlight of Saturday was the Dominant Dorm contest. Ober proved to be the winner for 1983. On Sunday the winners of the "Breakfast in Bed Raffle," A-2 Founders, were served their meal. The weekend came to a close with a coffeehouse in Founders Lounge. Throughout the weekend students signed the "World's Longest Letter to a College President" to put E-town in the world records book.

Campus Theatre presents

The Curious Savage

by John Patrick

Campus Theatre presented its spring comedy, "The Curious Savage", for two weekends in mid April. The play, written by playwright John Patrick, was under the direction of Ty Greiner.

Woodstock Weekend

The dorm councils of Ober and Schlosser provided the campus with a blast from the past with their theme weekend, "Woodstock Revival: A Tribute to the Sixties." The weekend was dedicated to the memory of Art Peters.

Friday's activities kicked off with a peace session, "El Salvador: Another Viet Nam?" held in Ober lobby. The movies for the weekend were "Woodstock" and "Easy Rider". Ober Amphitheatre was the site for an outdoor concert festival, Woodstock E-town style. On tap for Sunday was a concert by Sigma in the dell.

1983 Dance-a-thon

Have you ever wondered what 24 hours of perpetual motion and constant activity would do to your body, not to mention the condition of your brain? If not, you missed your chance as the 1983 "Let's Get Physical" dance-a-thon started on April 15 at 6 pm for 24 hours.

All the money raised through sponsors and donations goes to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Throughout the night, students traveled to locations such as Ober, the gym, cafe, BSC and town.

Student Awards Ceremony

The Fifth Annual Awards Ceremony was held on April 21 in the AA. Distinguished students received awards from all classes. Other awards given out included those in the areas of outstanding resident assistants, English, psychology, athletics and business to name a few.

T.G.I.S. "Hog Wild" Weekend

The Southern rock of the Charlie Daniels Band got everyone in the spirit for this year's T.G.I.S. Weekend. Certainly, the sounds of CDB were perfect for this year's theme, "HOG WILD."

For Friday evening meal, there was a pig roast and cookout in the Ober Amphitheatre featuring entertainment by Mark Smith. Later that night, the APB sponsored the Scarpetti Comedy Concert in the Reber room featuring Larry Amrose (from HBO), Mike Eagan, and Vinnie DeAngelo.

On Saturday those little rascals invaded our campus again for Big Brother/ Big Sister Day. In the evening everyone trotted down to Nick's Place for a T.G.I.S. Western dinner with entertainment from the Good Times band.

Although the inclement weather postponed "Mighty Mud Mania" until the following weekend, many students had a wild time slipping through a zany obstacle course in the mud.

Leonid Brezhnev Is Dead at 75

Kremlin Plans Largest Funeral Since Death of Stalin

By John F. Burns
New York Times News Service

MOSCOW — The Soviet leader who announced Thursday that Leonid Brezhnev had died suddenly at the age of 75 Wednesday after a chronic illness of heart ailment and would be buried in Red Square apparently on Friday.

Official bulletins released at noon said throughout the day suggested that the Kremlin was preparing for the largest funeral the Soviet union has seen since the death of Joseph Stalin in 1953.

There was no announcement of any decision on a successor to Brezhnev who had held the key post of first secretary of the Communist Party's Central Committee for eight years since 1962. His death also opens the most important post of chairman the Supreme Soviet, the president of a profligate Brezhnev had held since 1977. In an announcement by the 287-member Central Committee, convened before Brezhnev's death for a regular November session, the leadership also warned of "a crushing retaliatory strike" against any attempts by "aggressive circles of imperialism" to take advantage of the loss. The statement, also issued in the name of the executive and legislative organs of government, said the Soviet Union would continue to try to eliminate the threat of nuclear war and ensure detente and disarmament.

Speculation on a new party leader focused on two of the 11 men who remain active members of the Politburo, the Central Committee's inner cabinet. One, Yuri V. Andropov, 68, is the former head of the KGB, the state security police, a post he vacated only six months ago. The other, Konstantin U. Chernenko, 71, is a career party bureaucrat who was Brezhnev's closest political lieutenant for 20 years. Some Western diplomats believed that the leadership had given a hint of its choice with the announcement that Andropov would be the chairman of the official funeral commission, a 25-member body that will oversee all arrangements for the lying in state and the burial. The diplomats recalled that the chairman of the funeral commission appointed on Stalin's death was Nikita S. Khrushchev, who emerged from a bitter struggle with two other leaders to become the pre-eminent Kremlin figure.

Chernenko was also named to the funeral commission, in a listing that placed the eight Politburo members who live in Moscow in alphabetical order after Andropov. Also on the commission was Viktor V. Grishin, aged 66, the Moscow party boss, considered a possible compromise choice for party leader if neither Andropov nor Chernenko can gain a majority in the Politburo. The Politburo has the effective power to make the selection, which must be formally ratified by the Central Committee, a body with more than 200 members.

One of the first acts of the leadership after the announcement of Brezhnev's death was the publication of an "address" directed at the leadership put it, "to the Communist Party and the Soviet people." The document took the form of a eulogy to Brezhnev, but one of its purposes appeared to be to signal to the world that the Kremlin leadership remained committed to the detente policy that Brezhnev claimed as his greatest accomplishment.

The document described Brezhnev as "the greatest son of the working class" who was an inspiration to "hundreds of millions of people in all continents," and emphasized his commitment to "the policy of peace and peaceful cooperation, detente and disarmament, of resolutely repudiating imperialism's aggressive designs, of averting a nuclear catastrophe.

It added what sounded like a veiled warning to the United States not to take advantage of the uncertainty in the wake of Brezhnev's death, coupled with a reassurance to the Soviet people that the Kremlin would handle any threat that arose.

"We see the entire complexity of the international situation, the attempts by the aggressive circles of imperialism to undermine peaceful co-existence, to push the world to the path of enmity and military confrontation," the message said.

"But this cannot waver our resolve to uphold peace. We will do everything necessary for those who are fond of military adventures not to catch the Soviet hand unawares, for the potential aggressors to know a

Worst Blizzard in History Dumps 2 Feet of Snow Here

County Paralyze Highways Buried In Drifting Snow

By Eugene Smith
 The worst blizzard in the history of Lancaster County dumped a foot of snow on the area here Saturday, paralyzing highways and burying homes and businesses. The blizzard, which began in the early morning hours, was the heaviest yet in the county's history. It was the first time since 1918 that so much snow fell in one day. The snow was so heavy that it piled up in drifts that were several feet deep. Many homes and businesses were completely buried. The blizzard was the result of a low pressure system moving across the country. The snow was so heavy that it piled up in drifts that were several feet deep. # Cards Capture World Series, 6-3

Sutter Fulfills A Wish

By The Associated Press
 ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Bruce Sutter, who once said he wanted to be the best pitcher in the world, said he was the luckiest pitcher of his life. "It's definitely what I've always wanted, to come in and win the World Series with a card," he said. "I'm glad to be able to hold it."

Sutter, who saved 36 games this season, pitched his biggest save ever Wednesday night, coming in with a 4-3 lead and closing Milwaukee over the final two innings of the Cardinals' 6-3 victory over the Brewers in the decisive seventh game of baseball's 78th World Series.

"I've had an injury since we began to be the Cardinals. It was beginning to be a little bad," Sutter said. "The Cardinals had a 3-1 lead after 3 1/2 innings, and I had 31 after 3 1/2."

St. Louis Cardinals manager Tony La Russa said Sutter's save was "the best he's ever had."

"I've always said I'd like to be the best pitcher in the world," Sutter said. "I'm glad to be able to hold it."

Sutter's save was the 36th of his career. He has a 2.84 ERA and 1,000 strikeouts.

Porter Gets MVP, Sutter Earns Save

By John Holman
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Cardinals — molded by Manager Whitey Herzog in his own feisty image and driven by the persistent bats of Darrell Porter, Keith Hernandez and George Hendrick — ended 15 years of frustration Wednesday by beating the Milwaukee Brewers 6-3 and winning baseball's 78th World Series.

Mount Jay's Bruce Sutter pitched the final two innings, putting down six straight batters to earn his second save in the series. He also won the second game of the series.

They were the speed-oriented Cardinals, a replica of Herzog's three American League West Division champions in Kansas City, and they were a team of inspiration.

There was Porter, Herzog's catcher in Kansas City, who drove in one of St. Louis' runs in the decisive seventh game and had five RBIs in the Series to earn the Most Valuable Player award.

He continues a struggle against alcoholism that forced him into a treatment center in spring training of 1980, while he was with the Royals, and now he says it's all been worth it.

"This is the most fun I've had playing baseball in my whole career," Porter said. "We've got some people who can really play this game."

Porter was the most outgunned of the baseball copses of Mississippi riverboat gamblers. The Cardinals gambled with their present to secure their future, and it's the most effective

Sutter was one of eight pitchers on the Cardinals' World Series roster, acquired by Herzog after he became manager before the 1981 season. Another was Joseph Anderson, who came back from a leg injury in Game 3 to post his second World Series victory and Sutter, the bullpen ace.

Anderson was not perfect, but he was good enough long enough.

He finally left after seven innings, and Sutter finished the Brewers' rally by striking out two and out letting a ball out of the infield.

"Once he (Anderson) got to the seventh," Herzog said, "I wanted to go to the best relief pitcher in baseball. We had him in the bullpen, and I figured the better yet was in the bullpen."

Porter, who also pitched well along among the Cardinals' lineup, however.

Hernandez, who celebrated his 20th birthday Wednesday, won't go to the Series with eight RBIs, and Hernandez had five.

"I don't know what I deserve for MVP," said Porter, who also had been voted Most Valuable Player of the Cardinals' playoff sweep of Atlanta.

"There were a lot of guys who could have gotten it."

But I do happen to get it.

In the Cardinals locker room, Herzog held a bottle of champagne as 10-year-old team owner August A. Busch Jr. sat nearby.
